TRANSVALUE

TRANSVALUE MOUNT VERNON September 10, 2011 7:00PM to 9:00PM:

Chuck Britt	poems
Michael Vlatkovich	compositions, trombone
Jim Knodle	trumpet
Rich Halley	saxophone

"This... strange but intriguing production brings together poet Charles Butt, delivering his own work, and trombonist Michael Vlatkovich leading an ensemble for which he has composed music drawing on both jazz traditions and current ~ "new music" ideas. Category just doesn't apply here.

(It) is still socially aware, at its core." Ottawa Citizen

The rather subtle composer and trombonist, Michael Vlatkovich at times allowed glowing, tender themes to soar always focused in perfect synch ... Unbridled joy in play is the distinguishing characteristic of Transvalue. A delight... full of changes and surprises for the audience.
